The Forum is dedicated to broad, public education on domestic and economic issues, using modern tools of communications to engage the public and deploy ideas. It will research common-sense, innovative, and fact-based policies; critique the proposals of others where appropriate, and engage in the national debate over the future of government policy

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? ☐ Yes ☒ No

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. The Forum expanded its core areas of policy research and education to include immigration policy and labor market policy, as well as its health care policy research team and the communications and digital staff during the year. AAF continued to provide policy research, policy education, and policy options to two key constituencies: Congressional committees of jurisdiction and the larger public debate over ideas. AAF utilized a wide variety of communication strategies - white papers, forums and debates, whiteboards, social media, earned media, and op-eds - to reach its audiences in a timely and informative fashion. During the year AAF invested in a new website to better meet the needs of our audience. AAF identified issues most salient to voters by sponsoring and publishing nationwide or jurisdiction-specific polling research investigating the public's views on policy issues and how those views interact with other variables such as gender, age, political views, satisfaction with the government, attitude towards various governmental and nongovernmental actors and groups
